Show Positive Body Language You can project confidence, kindness, and leadership just by the way you carry yourself. Learning the social skills necessary to connect with others will help you be more successful in every aspect of your life. 3. Making eye contact with the person you are speaking with face-to-face is an outward expression that you are confident and fully engaged with that person. leÁÁÁm not saying walk around with a beaming smile from ear-to-ear at all timesÁÁÁthateÁÁÁs creepy. Additionally, smiling at others will trigger the mirror neurons in their brain to smile back at youÁÁÁÁteÁÁÁs contagious. Be the kind of person who speaks highly of others when they are not around. 12. The problem is, people are so good at hiding it, that they give off the impression that everything is good in their life and they doneÁÁÁt need help. What I am saying, is if you are in a good mood, make sure you donÁÁÁt forget to tell your face. Pay Attention To The Little Things Life is hard. Pay close attention in a group setting, youÁÁÁÁll be able to learn how to connect with others by what they say, how they say it, and even what people choose not to say. Share what youÁÁÁÁre good at with others and you will experience the fulfilling joy of giving.13. Instead, be that person who can look at the bright side of a difficult situation and keep tough times in perspective. Focus On The Bright Side Of Things Negativity is contagious and can spread quickly; refuse to be that person who transmits negativity through your family, friends, and coworkers by complaining all the time. Lock-in On Group Settings For many, the group setting is the perfect opportunity to pull back, check their phone, and zone out of the conversationÁÁÁbut not you. Just like learning how to cook, develop software, or play a sport; the ability to connect with others is a skill and you can learn how to do it more effectively.
